

Please stop Ringling's cruelty.

Among elephants in the wild, sons stay with their mothers until adolescence, and daughters remain with their mothers for life. But in Ringling's hands, baby elephants are often torn away from their mothers when they are about 18 months old. No mom should be alone on Mother's Day.

Have a heart  for elephants
this Mother's Day.